Proposals for Fresh Beef.

Office Commisary of Subsistence, Fort Bridger, U. T., July 6th, 1866.

SEALED Proposals in duplicate, will be received at this office until 12 o'clock M., July 20, 1866 for furnishing net Beef from the block, to the troops at Fort Bridger, U. T., from August 1st, 1866, to July 31st, 1867.

The beef to be of a good and wholesome quality, with equal proportions of fore and hind quarters (necks and shanks and kidney tallow to be excluded.) The necks of the cattle slaughtered for beef under this contract shall be cut off at the fourth vertebral joint, and the breast trimmed down; the shanks of the fore quarters to be cut off from three to four inches above the knee joint, and of the hind quarters, from six to eight inches above the gambul or hog joint.

The Contractor will be required to weigh and issue the beef on the order of the Post C. S.

A copy of this advertisement (a slip cut from this newspaper) must accompany each Proposal.

All Bids must be signed by the parties making them, and not by their clerks or agents.

Parties making bids must be present at the opening of the same, or they will not be considered.

The parties, to whom the contract may be awarded, will be required, within forty-eight (48) hours after the acceptance of the bid, to give bond, equal to thirty-three (33) per cent of the amount of the contract, with good and sufficient security, for the faithful performance of the contract.

The Government reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Payment to be made in such funds as may be furnished by the U. S. Government.

Proposals to be enclosed in an envelope, and endorsed "Proposals for Fresh Beef at Fort Bridger, U. T.," and directed to the undersigned.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 19, 1866.

THE MONTANA TRADE.

Notwithstanding the success of the Mountain boats this season, we contend that the natural and most reliable route for the Montana trade is through this city. Experience has shown that the Upper Missouri river cannot be depended upon for boating purposes. In 1864, four out of ten, and in 1865 four out of twenty of the boats that started for Fort Benton, reached their destination.

Judging by the past, it will take five years' time to make the Powder River route a safe one to travel, and before that we can offer the merchants of Montana a railroad as far as this city.

The Montana Radiator in discussing the practicability of the Missouri river route, says:

Taking into consideration the delays, uncertainty, expense of transportation and possibility of but one yearly communication with the east, and the profits of the merchant narrowed down to those derived from a single investment in a whole year, and the question would seem to be decided adversely to the river trade. Eastern and Pacific merchants are now doing business here side by side, and this season will decide which will carry the key to the miners pocket—cheap goods. Both boast that they can sell the cheapest. California merchants claim that all imported goods can be landed in San Francisco as cheap (and some articles cheaper) as they can in New York city, and that Atlantic goods are only three-fourths of a cent per pound higher than they are in New York, and that they can be transported to this country overland, for from fifteen to twenty cents per pound.

The freight cost of none of the eastern goods that will reach this market will be less than fifteen cents, after it reaches the Missouri river, to this place, and the long and expensive railroad transportation intersecting between that point and New York City, added to this cost, would place the first on an equal footing with the race of competition for the trade of Montana. Then the ability of western merchants to replenish their stocks, and turn their capital three or four times a year gives them a decided advantage, and the safety of transportation and the certainty in securing goods at stated periods forms a desideratum greatly prized in commercial enterprises. Some of the goods that came up last spring were landed at Fort Union, and some at the intermediate points between that place and Fort Benton; some have not arrived yet, and some were coming all the time between last July and January. It is a self-evident proposition that such transportation is unsatisfactory. It involves the owner in embarrassment—frequently compells sacrifices—and will be avoided by business men unless the profits are somewhat commensurate with the risks.

The business men of the Pacific coast should make every effort to have the Colorado River route opened as soon as possible, for when this is accomplished, there is every season to believe that it will be the medium of the larger portion of the Montana trade.

From California.

(From the Enterprise.)

San Francisco, July 12.

The Western Union Company's flagship Nightingale sailed yesterday for the Russian possessions, carrying provisions and an assorted cargo for the Collins Telegraph expedition.

After a suspension of two or three months the cotton mills at Clinton, across the bay, have resumed work. Contracts have been made for securing cotton from Mexico until our own crop comes into market. Eastern cotton will also be used at the mill, an invoice now being on the way here by steamer from New York.

Private telegrams, dated New York yesterday, represent the market for standard dry goods as very firm.

The dead body found hanging to the limb of a tree at Lone Mountain has been identified as that of Gustaff Anderson, a native of Swedon, aged about fifty years.

The case of Charles P. and John Duane, indicted for the murder of William G. Ross, was called before Judge Pratt this morning and continued until next Tuesday, when they will be required to plead.

Call for a National Convention.

A call has been issued from Washington dated June 25th, announcing that a National Union Convention of at least two delegates from each Congressional district of all the States—two from each Territory, two from the District of Columbia, and four delegates at large from each will be held in the city of Philadelphia on the 14th of August next. Such delegates will be chosen by the Governors of the several States who sustain the Administration. Delegates are asked to agree:

1st. The Union is perpetual and is indissoluble.

2d. Equality of States and right to representation are solemly guaranteed.

3d. No right of accession or exclusion.

4th. Slavery is abolished forever.

5th. Each State has to prescribe qualification for its own elector.

6th. The maintainance of the right of each State to manage its domestic concerns inviolate.

This call is signed by A. W. Randall, President; J. R. Doolittle, O. H. Browning, Edgar Cowan, Chas. Knapp, Sam'l Fowler.

DASTARDLY MURDER AT JULESBURG.—By a letter received yesterday we learn that Lieut. Geo. K. Jenkins, of the 6th U. S. Vols., on duty at Fort Sedgwick, went to Julesburg on the 4th, when he made an unprovoked assault upon a citizen named Leaverton, killing him by shooting. The murderer is in close confinement at the post, and will be turned over to the civil authorities for trial.—Denver News, 11th.

THE military force in Utah is reduced now to a single regiment, and the highest officer in command is a major of regulars. About two-thirds of the regiment are at Salt Lake City, the rest at Fort Bridger. A good chance this petty number offers for Brigham Young to fulfill his frequent threat, and "wipe out" the United States and the Gentiles in his kingdom.—Springfield Republican.

CONGRESSIONAL.

HOUSE.

Washington, July 17.

The House debated and acted upon the Rosseau affair. The resolution to expell Rosseau was received—ayes 72, nays 49—and not being two-thirds, it was not adopted. The resolution to censure Grinnell was rejected without division. The House then adopted the resolution to reprimand Rosseau, by ayes 89, nays 30.

Rosseau was in his seat during the proceedings.

GENERAL NEWS.

Washington, July 17.

The following dispatch was received to-day from Gen. Thomas:

Nashville, Tenn., July 14.

Lieut. Gen. Grant, Washington:

Some of the members of the House of Representatives, in General Assembly conduct themselves in a very refractory manner, absenting themselves to prevent a quorum, thus obstructing business. The Governor cannot manage them with the means at his disposal and has applied to me for military assistance. Shall I furnish it?

Signed, GEO. H. THOMAS, Maj. Gen. Commanding.

The following answer was immediately given:

Washington, July 17.

Gen. Grant will instruct Gen. Thomas that the facts stated in his telegram do not warrant the interference of the military authorities. The administration of peace at Nashville belongs properly to the State authorities, and the duty of the United States forces is not to interfere in any way in controversies between the political authorities of the State, and Gen. Thomas will strictly abstain from any interference between them.

Signed, E. M. STANTON, Secretary of War.

New York, July 17.

The Post's money article says gold is strong to-day in anticipation that the next news from Europe will be less favorable for a restoration of peace. The stock market is irregular. Governments steady, without much activity.

Foreign News.

New York, July 17.

The steamer Pereire, from Havre, July 5th, via Brest the 7th, has arrived.

Prussia and Italy have refused an armistice. The Italians have crossed the Po.

The Austrians have entirely evacuted Lombardy and returned across the Mincio.

The Florence Journals declare that if the Austrian troops evacuate Venetia to march against the Prussians, the Italian army will pursue them closely until a junction is effected between the Italian and Prussian armies. They believe in the immediate resumption of the campaign, which will be continued till the Austrian monarchy is dismembered.

The La Press of the 7th says the cession of Venetia to France is complete and definite, and without any other condition on the part of Austria except to withdraw all arms, guns and munitions of war found in fortified places within forty-eight hours.

The whole of Venetia will be French territory, and it will depend upon the good will of France to keep or part with it.

The Italian Government will therefore have to cease every act of hostility against Venetia, it being French territory.

The French Commissioner is going at once to Venice to assume its government in name of the Empire.

Orders have been issued to the French squadron in the Mediteranean, to immediately proceed to Venice and hoist the French flag, instead of the Austrian, upon all posts on the Venetia coast.

The La Press says furthermore, that King Victor Emanuel has not at once acceded to the armistice, proposed through France. He alleges as his reason the desire to consult his ally the King of Prussia.

The Augsberg Gazette says Benedek has demanded thirty thousand reinforcements. The same paper has a report that the Arch Duke Albert has been appointed successor to Benedek.

The fortifications of Vienna were being increased, and five hundred guns are now in position.

The Prussian army, debouching from electoral Hesse, has entered Bavaria.

A fight occurred at Meinningen on the 4th, between the Bavarian corps and the Prussian army under Earl Fulkenstein. No particulars.

An Eisenach dispatch of the 5th says: Some detachments of Bavarian troops have been driven from Hensfield. A corps of the Bavarian army has entered Austrian Tyrol, moving towards Calais. Garibaldi's headquarters are at Lanato. He has about 50,000 men under his command. They are not completely equipped, but are armed and have plenty of ammunition. Owing to the appearance of Garibaldi, the war is likely to assume a peculiar character. Some Tyrolese priests have roused up a portion of the peasants by representing the Italians as banditti and Garibaldi as anti-Christ.

Vienna, July 5.

Benedek addressed the following despatch to the Emperor yesterday at 3 a. m.:

After a brilliant contest of five hours' duration before Krunigitz, with our center at Lippa, the enemy, favored by rain, succeeded in establishing himself at Chlum. Our lines being broken, we were compelled to recede, and a retreat was effected. Losses not known, but they are considerable.

Berlin, July 5.

The victory of Sudowa produces great enthusiasm. The army under the Prince Royal, although distant from the field of battle, succeeded by great effort in arriving in time to direct an attack against the right of the Austrians, which act decided the victory. The King decorated the Prince on the field of battle with an order of military merit.

FROM NEVADA.—The Enterprise is opposed to taking troops out of the State for escorts.... The store of Sol Wangenheim, at Markleeville, was destroyed by fire on the 12th. Loss $20,000. Insurance $17,000.... The citizens of Virginia spent $2,000 in celebrating the Fourth.

GOVERNOR MITCHELL, Chief Justice Slough and Indian Superintendent Norton have arrived at Santa Fe. The Governor was to have been inaugurated on the 15th inst.

POLYGAMY IN UTAH.

(N. Y. correspondent Sacramento Union.)

What is Congress doing for the abolishment of polygamy in Utah, and the protection of the Gentile or unsanctified portion of its inhabitants? I find no answer to the question in the papers, but privately I learn that the Committee appointed in the early part of the session to take testimony relative to the condition of civil affairs there, and the necessity for further legislation by Congress in behalf of the non-polygamist residents of Utah, has nearly completed its labors, and may soon be expected to report. The duties of the Committee have been somewhat akin to those of the Reconstruction Committee, and the subject under consideration is scarcely less important to Americans residing in Utah who have no affinity with Mormonism. And it seems to have taken the Committee about as long to collect sufficient evidence to enable them to make up their minds as it did their fellow members to whom was committed a task of reconstruction. It is to be hoped they will reach a result, at the end of their deliberations, not less tangible certainly, and then, perhaps, we shall find that reconstruction is quite as necessary in the case of the Mormons as it is of the Southern rebels. And just here I wish to say a word in reference to the testimony of two or three of the individuals who recently paraded their names in an obsequious card justifying (if I remember rightly) the murder of Brassfield and expressing their opinion that life and property was as safe at the hands of Brigham Young and his followers as anywhere in the United States. The card was used successfully by Brigham to blind the eyes of General Sherman, and appeared in the published correspondence between these parties. Three of its signers are known to me—two of them as utterly unworthy of credence or respect, though they held at one time good positions in the volunteer army. One was utterly disloyal, and even while discharging the duties of Assistant Commissary of Subsistence, made his boast that he had not worn and could not be made to wear the Federal uniform. In this he was mistaken, however, for while I was in Salt Lake he was arrested (after being cuffed by an officer of the guard for insolence), and was glad to get out of arrest by getting Uncle Sam's shiny habiliments. Each of the three was notoriously a truckler to Young, while secretly aspiring to be the gallants of some of his Mormon women, and enjoy other favors under his benignant hand. It is with such tools as these that Young succeeded in disarming the virtuous intentions of the hero of Atlanta. The testimony now being taken by the Congressional Committee, whose Chairman is Ashley, will somewhat invalidate the evidence of Brigham's Gentile witnesses. It covers fully the points on which they have testified, including the murder of Brassfield.

By the way, I notice Brigham's good will is becoming a matter of profit in trade as well as politics. A day or two since my scissors fell on the annexed advertisement in one of our morning papers, in which Brigham is made to sound the praises of a sewing machine. He says: "Gents: I have several good sewing machines, by various makers, in use in my family; but your machine is superior to them all. It is, in every respect, the best machine for family use that I have seen in this Territory." That must be a family recommendation worth having. A machine that can do Brigham's family sewing is undoubtedly a good thing to have in the house.

FROM THE RIVER.—The cars are running 113 miles west of Omaha.... The Miner returned to Omaha, on the 5th, on her way down, having made the quickest round trip of the season. She reports fine boating on the upper Missouri.... The result of the Nebraska election is at last definitely known. The Republicans have been successful "all around." Mr. Butler has 145 majority for Governor; Mr. Marquette has 156 majority for Congress; and the State Constitution has 111 majority. The total vote is about 8,000. Nebraska will now at once apply for admission as a State.

On the evening of the third inst. two men, named James Clark and Ben Ullman, had a dispute about some money matters; after Ullman had left, Clark came up behind him with a revolver and fired, the ball passing through his neck and lodged in his jaw. Ullman then turned upon Clark and threw him to the ground, and stamped upon his head until he mashed it to a jelly, killing him upon the spot. The St. Jo Herald, from which we gather the above particulars, justifies Ullman in slaying his assailant. It was supposed that the former would recover, as he is a man of iron constitution.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVALS.—Brig. General P. E. Connor, whom all Colorado admires for his brilliant campaigns among our red devils, has returned from a long visit to Washington, and is now here recreating for a few days. He is a publisher, and has availed himself of our cordial invitation to jerk the latch string, which hangs pendant from our door.—Colorado Register.

PERSONAL.—Brevet Major General Rufus Ingalls, of General Grants staff, arrived in our city by Tuesday evening's eastern coach. He is engaged in making an inspection tour of the territories and Pacific States. The General was accompanied by C. A. Cook, Esq., and Col. Howard, A. Q. M., both of Denver.

THE ninety-seventh anniversary of the settlement of California occurerd July 2d. On the 1st of July, 1769, Junipero Serra, at the head of a party of Spanish Franciscan friars and soldiers, reached San Diego, with the purpose of civilizing the country and christianizing its savage inhabitants.

PERSONAL.—M. A. Carter, Esq., of Malad City, arrived in this city yesterday and will return to Idaho in a few days. The Judge is now a candidate for Councilman in his county.

IT is in contemplation to build a new and costly Executive Mansion on the high grounds east of the Capitol, and turn the White House into a fire-proof building for the State Department.
